18 Are Dead In State Accidents

HEAVY TOLL TAKEN IN INDI-ANA DURING PAST WEEK END

By United Press

Indiana's unprecedented wave of traffic accidents continued unabated over the week end as at least 18 persons died as a result of accidents on streets and highways.

Thirteen of the victims perished Saturday and five Sunday. The worst tragedy was an auto-train collision near Hammond Saturday afternoon that wiped out seven members of a family.

A two-car collision southeast of Linden in Montgomery county Sunday cost the life of Dorothy Ellis, 35, Alexandria. Among the injured were the victim's husband, Ernest Ellis, 49, and her mother, Mrs. Rose

Also Sunday, Juanita Wilson, 25, injured fatally at Vincennes when his auto collided with another car at a city street intersection; Elmer Peck, 55, succumbed of injuries received Saturday when he was struck by an auto on a Washington, Ind., street, and Marion Wallace, 75, Farmers-burg, was killed when struck by an auto on road 41 near his home.

The Hammond accident occurred when a speeding Grand Trunk Railway limited plowed into a loaded ses-dan on a grade crossing, killing Andrew Schafer of Schererville, his wife, their four children, and Mrs.
Schafer's father, C. M. Haynes of Bellevue, Ill.

Other dead Saturday:

Thompson, 28, both of Brazil, killed when their auto left highway 40 east of Brazil and overturned in a ditch.

45, both of Muncie, killed in a threeway crash on highway 67 northeast of Muncie.

Ind., killed when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car on road

NO TAX LEVY FOR TOWN OF BAINBRIDGE

GOOD NEWS FOR PROPERTY OWNERS IN NORTH PUT-NAM TOWN

"DON'T NEED THE MONEY"

Earl Evans, Clerk-Treasurer Of Bainbridge, Quoted In Regards To No Tax Rate

The members of the town board of Bainbridge, the metropolis of Monroe township, put their municipality on the map this month by announcing there would be no town tax levy for collection in 1942. That was good news to the property owners among the 414 persons who are credited, by the 1940 census, with residence there.
This year, the property owners of Bainbridge paid a town levy of 26 cents on each $100 of taxable property, and, of course, in addition, they paid all the other levies—township, county, and state.

This year, the total of all levies, as paid by Bainbridge tax payers, is $2.54. Next year, with the town levy off the tax duplicate, that total will be about a nickel lower than this year. Assuming the State Tax Board approves the action of the County Tax Adjustment Board.

Incidentally, the population of Bainbridge is increasing. In 1930, the census said there were 406 persons residing within its rather widespread boundaries, but eight more were found there last year, by the census-takers. Incidentally again, Monroe township now has 1,154 residents, including those of the town.

It is a unique thing for a town board to pass up a chance to levy taxes, and Earl Evans, clerk-treasurer of Bainbridge, the other evening, was asked how come. "We just don't need the money," was his explanation.

Bainbridge, figuratively speaking, is sitting on a nest egg of very comfortable size—and not a chinaware nest egg, either. It is worth $3,000.
If the income of the town from its several sources of income is not sufficient, next year, to pay the costs of operating the town government, that reserve of $3,000 will be depleted for that purpose, as much as is necessary, Mr. Evans said.

Comparatively small items of income include that from local pool table licenses, $18; from state excise tax, $116; and from state gasoline tax and license plate sales, $140.

But, overtopping these items is the much more substantial one from the town's operation of its electric lighting system. In 1914, the town government contracted with the Northern Indiana Power company—or its predecessor at that time—to buy electricity "wholesale," the town to erect its own local distributing system of poles and wires. There was a bond issue of approximately $2800, to pay that construction cost. Included in the equipment are the step-down transformers, whereby the high voltage current of the power suitable for the consumers, of whom there are 200 or more.

Usually, in past years, the town clerk-treasurer has acted as superintendent of the light department, but, just now, Glen Michael is looking after it. He not only has charge of the local system, but he tends the switchboard for the power company which feeds the current onto the lines to Roachdale and Danville.

The amount of business of the Bainbridge lighting system is surprisingly large. In 1940, Mr. Evans' figures showed gross receipts of $7,386.10, with disbursements of $5,862.21. Betterments, last year, cost $548.99. There was, even with those expenditures, a very comfortable balance sheet left on hand at the close of the year. It helped make the $3,000 nest egg.

The members of the town board are Curtis Higgins, president; Frank Baker and Virgil Ader, with Mr.
Evans clerk-treasurer.

Bainbridge is a lot older than most people think. In fact, it dates back to 1831, for its first platting, and that is almost as old as Manhattan on the National road, and Greencas-tle city. The first plat of the town was recorded March 5, 1831, with the state road east and west—later state highway 36—40 feet wide and the "cross street," the Greencastle-Roachdale road, 32 feet. The lots measured, on paper, "66 poles by 12 poles," and there were only 13 of these lots, none of them being located on the northwest corner of the intersections of the roads.

But there have been a number of

ORVILLE O'HAIR JOINS CANADIAN AIR FORCE

Orville O'Hair, well known local boy and son of Orah O'Hair, south Jackson street, left Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock for Ottawa, where he will join the Canadian Air Force.

Mr. O'Hair, who has been connected with the Greencastle Hardware store on the west side of the public square, did not know just where he would be assigned after reaching Canada. He has passed the necessary requirements to start his flying career with the Canadians and was to report for duty Wednesday.

Appointments Are Announced

METHODIST CHARGES LISTED BY BISHOP LOWE AT CONFERENCE

At the closing session, Sunday arternoon, of the Southern Indiana Methodist Conference, held in the Methodist Street Methodist church in Indianapolis, Bishop Titus Lowe before an audience of 1200 persons announced the appointments of pastors for the charges of the district and special appointments. The part of Putnam county south of the National road is included within the boundaries of that conference, and the Methodist church in Cloverdale and Put-namville are within its jurisdiction.

The Rev. A. Meredith of Greencas-tle was appointed to the Cloverdale charge, whose house of worship was recently destroyed by fire. Services will be held in another auditorium in that town, pending the erection of a new church building.

The Putnamville charge was filled by the appointment of Lennis Donaldson of Cloverdale route 1.
Dr. T. G. Duvall, former teacher in DePauw and well remembered here, now a professor in Ohio Wesleyan University, was again assigned to membership in the Roberts Park Quarterly conference.

Dr. C. E. Wildman, president of DePauw, was reaffirmed as a member of the Greensburg Quarterly Conference.

Dr. Harold Zink, professor in De-Pauw, was again made a member of the Greencastle Quarterly Conference.

After much debate and a reconsideration of the issue during preceding sessions, conference dates were changed from fall to spring. Next year's meeting will be held in Evansville in June, the exact dates to be announced later.

ENROLLMENT NOW 1440

Ten more students were registered at DePauw University Saturday to bring the total to 1440, just ten short of DePauw's stabilized figure of 1450.
It appeared certain today that more than enough students were in the process of enrolling to reach the desired figure. All those to enroll Saturday were in the college of Liberal arts and seven of the ten were men.
The freshman total to date is 463.
Last year only three were enrolled on the second day.

M. E. Steward, age about 87 years, remains seriously ill at his home north of Fillmore.

ROACHDALE LIONS CLUB HELD OUTING

SEVENTY PEOPLE ATTENDED SUNDAY MEETING AT
STATE PARK

FOURTH ANNUAL PICNIC

Members Of Roachdale Club And Families Spent Day At Mc-Cormick's Creek Park

McCormick's Creek State Park provided the perfect setting for the fourth annual picnic of the Roach-dale Lions Club on Sunday.

Assembling in Greencastle, the 30 members and guests, numbering about seventy, proceeded in gaily bedecked automobiles to the state park where a banquet was served at the Canyon Inn on their arrival. During the afternoon many games were arranged which were enjoyed by all.

The annual picnics of the Lions Club are held each fall at one of the nearby state parks. Each succeeding year, they have been more successful and are anticipated with interest. The Lions Club of Roach-dale has an excellent record in civic improvement and in the promotion of the community. The membership is limited to thirty of the more prominent business leaders, and through the organization, are active in community interests.

Blaze Robertson is the president of the club this year.

MAN FOUND SHOT

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 15—(UP)—Police today held two persons for questioning in the death of Gerald Carver, 37-year-old Crawfordsville cement worker, who was found shot to death on the city dump yesterday.

A woman and a man seen with Carver early Saturday evening were being held, police said. The laborer was believed to have been shot to death late Saturday night when neighbors reported hearing four of five gunshots.

Officers said there was no sign of a struggle and no marks on the body except a bullet wound in the head.
Tests showed Carver was killed by a slug from a .45 caliber revolver.

Many Witnesses Will Be Heard

TO TESTIFY IN MATTINGLY SLAYING CASE AT BLOOMINGTON

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 15 (UP)—Twenty-five witnesses were scheduled to appear before the Monroe county grand jury today and tomorrow as it resumes its inquiry into the death of Charles O. Mattingly, Public Service Commission attorney.

The jury recessed Friday after completing three days of hearings.
Prosecutor Floyd Cook said the new witnesses would be largely relatives and former co-workers of Mrs.
Caroline Payne, Bloomington newspaper woman accused of slaying Mattingly, her former fiancée, July 5.

Cook said the witnesses would reflect the defense side of the case.
Those who appeared last week, including Mattingly's widow, were mostly state witnesses.

The prosecutor also announced the summoning of 18 additional persons to testify, bringing the total number to about 75. Approximately half those subpoenaed earlier have been heard. The jury is scheduled to complete its investigation Thursday.

Included in today's witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Smiley, Mrs. Myrtle Henderson, Mrs. Gayle Duncan, David Crutchfield and Darrell Houghins, all employees of the newspaper for which Mrs. Payne worked. Mrs. Henderson and Crutch-field are niece and nephews, respectively, of Mrs. Payne. Another niece, Mrs. Sanford Deckard, also will appear.

Other scheduled witnesses were Donald E. Bowen, Republican county chairman, and Mrs. Ivy Jones, former maid of Mrs. Payne.

At 2:30 o'clock, tomorrow, in the office of the county auditor, a representative of the State Tax Board will hear remonstrances, if any, on the request of the Greencastle consolidated school trustees for an additional appropriation, and at 2:45 he will hear the request of the trustee of Washington township, also for additional funds.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(UP)—

Child Had Close Call Under Auto

JOYCE MARIE MOORE ESCAPED DEATH IN SUNDAY MORN-ING ACCIDENT

Joyce Marie Moore, age 3 years, narrowly escaped death Sunday morning about 9:30 o'clock when she fell out of her father's auto and rolled in front of another machine on the west Walnut street road near the Walter Evans home.

According to Chief of Police Ed Maddox, the little girl was riding in the back seat of a 1935 Dodge sedan, driven by her father, Carl Moore.
Greencastle Route One. The child's mother was also in the car, riding in the front seat. The Moore family was headed east, coming into the city and had just passed through the covered bridge over Big Walnut creek and were rounding the sharp turn just east of the structure.

Rex Payne, of Buck Creek, accompanied by his mother and brother, were going west en route to Lena in a 1935 Ford coach. Suddenly, according to information given the police, the rear door of Moore's sedan flew open and the little girl fell out on the pavement and rolled right in the path of Payne's machine.
Payne slammed on the brakes and his car straddled the child's body.
Both cars, it was said, were going about 30 miles an hour at the time of the accident.

The youngster was rushed to the Putnam county hospital where it was found she had a fractured leg, a gash on the forehead and other cuts and bruises.

NO TAX LEVY

Bainbridge almost became the junction point of a branch line of the Monon, to extend southwesterly to Brazil, which was never completed, and also, it was on the original survey of the I. D. & W. railroad, which finally went through north Putnam. Much work was done on the roadbed of that railroad, visible even now just southwest of town, on the so-called "Shoestring" county highway. Bainbridge is credited with $194,149 in taxable property.

The Daily Banner, Saturday, in its story of Bob Strain's experiences in hog raising—as related by himself—unintentionally credited Bob's gilt, Katy, with an "unbelievable number of babies in one litter. He wrote in his report: "The next morning, much to my disgust, Katy had 12 live pigs and 4 smashed pigs." The number of "smashed" offspring was unintentionally raised, in print, to 44. Thus, Katy was credited with the achievement of bringing a total of 56 infants into the world, in that one effort. The actual number was 16, as Bob wrote.

LOCAL GIRL IS BRIDE

Mrs. M. H. Huckeriede before her marriage Sunday afternoon in the First Christian Church, was Miss Nanette Hollowell. The couple will make their home in Greencastle.

In a beautiful wedding ceremony solemnized Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the First Christian church, Miss Nanette Hollowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Hollowell of Greencastle, became the bride of Dr. Mark H. Huckeriede of Greencastle, son of Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Huckeriede of Terre Haute.

The double ring service was read by the Rev. Huckeriede, father of the bridegroom, in the presence of several hundred guests. The altar was decorated with ferns, two large urns containing gold and blue flowers and two seven branch candelabras.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. A. L. Meredith, organist, of Greencastle, played a group of bridal airs. Paul A. Brown, violinist, of the Arthur Jordan Conservatory of Music, played "Romance" from the second violin concerto by Wieniawski. For the procession, Mrs. Meredith played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" and for the recessional Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of pure white slipper satin, with fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves, and a bouffant skirt edged in graduated scallops continuing around the train, with a rambling rose design in each scallop. She wore a heart shaped tiara with a finger tip length veil of mousseline de soire. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli.

Mrs. Paul Huckeriede of Indianapolis, was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Dr. William E. Tipton and Ernest H. Collins, both of Greencastle and Richard Reineking of Bloomington.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hollowell wore an ensemble of sea foam green with burnt ginger accessories and a corsage of apricot gladioli. Mrs. Huckeriede, the bridegroom's mother wore teal blue and a corsage of pink and white gladioli.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on east Washington street. Decorating the bridal table was a three tier wedding cake on which was a miniature bride and groom. A program of music was given by Paul A. Brown, violinist, and Miss Natalie Ratliff, accordionist, both of the Arthur Jordan Conservatory of Music. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Ernest H. Collins, Miss Jerry Ruark and Miss Pauline Masten, of Greencastle, and
